Introduction

Dear Tigers,

This is the official report of Quad 1, in which we reflect on our first quad as the 14th Board of EUCSA. Similar to the reports of the preceding Boards, this one will include an evaluation of the performance of the Board and the committees, as well as the events that were held in this quad. This report is a way for us to be completely transparent with our members, and also includes how we aim to improve throughout the year. We always appreciate feedback, and your suggestions and comments are always welcome. You can reach out to us either via email (eucsaboard@gmail.com), or in the anonymous feedback form on our website.

The EUCSA Board of the academic year 2026/2027 consists of the following members:

- Chair: Zahara Bryannah Terlonge-Hansen
- Secretary Vice-Chair: Terra Niwa
- Treasurer: Nicolas Keller
- Committee Affairs Officer: Alyssa Sophia Matz
- Committee Affairs Officer: Eloïse Le Bas
- Committee Affairs Officer: Hanna Piotrowska

As a Board, we have and will continue to plan numerous events and services that contribute to the overall functioning of the association. Nonetheless, the majority of events facilitating social opportunities are organized and executed by the committees and/or teams of the association. You can find the assessment of committee events and performance from our Committee Affairs Officers below.

Board Assessment

General Assessment and Board Initiatives

The beginning of our Board year has been very successful and, in spite of a few challenges here and there, we have become a strong team.

The work began over the summer break with meetings held over Microsoft Teams, at least once a week, in order to prepare for Introweek and the upcoming year. In this time we learned how to improve our communication as a group and navigate the differences in time zones. We returned to the EUC building the week before Introweek for our final preparations, spending the majority of the time working together in the Board Room.

During Quad 1, we typically held one full board meeting per week, in addition to whichever other meetings were necessary. We found that this was useful to keep each other updated on our separate tasks, and have time to work together on group matters, so we will be continuing with this system throughout the year.

At the start of the Quad, we decided to centralise our EUCSA Whatsapp Groups by creating an EUCSA Community, to ensure all groups are easily accessible. This has proved successful so far, with high attendance at our recurring events and streamlined communication.

After much discussion and deliberation, we proposed replacing the Intersectional Council with the Intersectional Roundtable. This proposal is to ensure that the advisory aspect of the IC remains in place, holding EUCSA accountable for matters regarding diversity, safety, and inclusion, while removing the need for it to be an independent body. We are excited for how this will work out in the year, especially considering that it is now open to all EUC students, creating a more open space for feedback to be shared.

Another significant decision we made was to move the EUCSA Website off of Wix. While this does have practical implications, it came to our attention that Wix is based in and supportive of Israel, and we felt that our values as an association are not in line with those of Wix. The website has been rebuilt using Wordpress, and so far we have set up our key information and ticketing platform. The website will continue to be improved and developed throughout the year, and we hope to have it back to its original functionality soon.

Furthermore, as you might have noticed, this document is in the font Georgia, our new official board font!

Overall, we have been finding our Board year to be successful and are happy with how it has been going thus far, both internally and for the association as a whole. While we have a positive experience, we continue to encourage feedback from you, as this helps us improve.

SAAC Collaboration

SAAC and EUCSA have established a foundation for strong collaboration throughout the year. This Quad we have held one full meeting, in addition to various smaller meetings to discuss projects. We have not yet had the chance to have inter-board team building, but now that SAAC has fully formed their board with the recent addition of their first-year representative, Anna Gzil, we aim to do this in Quad 2.

This year our collaboration focuses on the Assembly for Change and Transformation (ACT) and the EUC Housing Platform. ACT will be held alongside our second General Assembly, planned for the 19th of November. The Housing Platform is continually monitored and adapted by the two boards throughout the year, with most of the focus coming towards the end of the academic year. SAAC also continues to be involved in the Intersectional Roundtable (formerly the Intersectional Council), which we will use to continue our work in relation to ACT throughout the year.

We look forward to continuing our collaboration and finding new ways to work together with SAAC.

EUC Relationship

Beginning in the summer, biweekly meetings were held with Roel ten Hengel, EUC's student life officer. These meetings were helpful in establishing our footing, and in maintaining strong communication between EUC and EUCSA. As always, EUC has been supportive of EUCSA and our initiatives. We have also met briefly with Matthew, but have not yet had the chance to meet with Renate, the new dean. We aim to meet with her in Quad 2.

Assessment of Board Events

Introweek

The Introweek of the academic year of 2026-2027 was successful, and received positive feedback from both the first years and Introweek guides. We made a few adjustments to last year's schedule, particularly regarding one of the venues and the registration process, as this year's Introweek was shortened by one day. Aside from these changes, the schedule remained largely the same as last year's.

Attendance at all events exceeded expectations, especially at the parties and Sports and Pizza by the lake. We were greatly pleased with the amount of volunteers for the crew, Floor Angels, and photographers – we truly appreciate everyone who was able to help us.

There were no major issues or crises, which we did our best to avoid. All of the possible improvements we received feedback on and experienced first-hand has been noted down for the next year's Board. We hope that Introweek 2027 will continue this trend of building upon existing foundations in order to deliver a memorable introductory experience to incoming EUC students.

Start of Year Kick-off

To begin the academic year on a high note, we hosted a start of the academic year gathering, for which students of all cohorts and staff members were invited. The turnout exceeded our expectations, with much positive feedback coming from both students and staff. We believe this event allowed the EUC community to integrate and develop a sense of familiarity with each other before the start of the new academic year.

Social Drinks

On the 3rd of September, we hosted the first Social Drinks of the year at Concordia. Social Drinks has been a staple in the EUCSA community, and so we wanted to continue the tradition this year. The turnout was lower than what we expected, especially from the first years. However, overall, it was a great way to carry on the heightened spirits from Introweek into the Quad, and we were happy with how it went.

Quad 1 General Assembly

The first General Assembly of the year went well. Two proposals of amendments to the Policy Manual were presented and both passed, as well as the Budget Allocation. We announced updates and recaps of Quad 1, along with the upcoming events for Quad 2. Furthermore, the change in the website domain was also officialized, stating that we moved the domain from Wix to Wordpress – the website is still being rebuilt, but is still operational for fundamental ticketing processes.

Further, topics such as the collaboration with SAAC, AC, and the IC were discussed. For more information, please refer to the GA 1 Minutes. Overall, we are happy with the turnout and we are looking forward to the next GA in Quad 2.

Financial Overview

Financial assessments & Updates

This quad rounded off the 2025-2026 financial year for EUCSA. With more memberships than in the past five years, events to kick off the new school year, and the new budget proposal, the financial situation of EUCSA is very healthy.

The quad started with Introweek, the most financially challenging event of the year; the budget provided was adequate for all preparations and events. The remainder was transferred to the reserves, which was then allocated in part to committees for the upcoming year's budget.

Membership sales soared to a high of 401 members, opened for Introweek all the way through a week before the Budget Open Floor, so as to ensure revenue was allocated correctly in a near-definitive state. During the first GA, following the Budget Open Floor the week before, the new budget passed with 74% approval, ensuring a definitive roadmap for the year to come. The Collaboration Pot is continuing this year. To better support smaller Committees with a more limited budget, we have decided to commit to adding 25% of the total event's budget through the Collaboration pot, as opposed to the previous 10%.

Due to the overhaul of the website, and the change of host from Wix to Wordpress, the previous 2.5% fee on every transaction charged by Wix will cease.

The newly approved 2026-2027 budget comes into effect as of Monday 26th October, at the start of Quad 2, and will run until the end of Quad 1 of next academic year, with some minor adjustments slated for Quad 3.

Committee Feedback

Progress of Alyssa's Committees

Arts and Crafts Co.

Arts and Crafts Co. has managed to fill a full committee, from just a chair and treasurer to six members from each cohort. The transition was smooth as the old chair remained in her position. Although they have had no events in Quad 1, they are eager to start off strong with an event in the first week of Quad 2, and with many ideas for collaborations in the future.

Debate Co.

Debate Co. has managed to fill a full committee with two co-chairs, a treasurer, and four general members, with a lot of interest at the application stage. Most general members are first-years, who seem eager to participate. The treasurer is also a first-year, who has succeeded in producing a well-done budget proposal. Despite having some minor organisational issues, Debate Co. has been quite active this quad. They have continued with Debate Club, hoping to adjust it to draw more interest, and have had their first Drunk Debate of the year which drew a lot of interest. They are hoping to go forward with some collaborations with other committees and with NMUN in the future.

Exhibition Team

Exhibition Team has formed a full committee with six members. They are motivated and work well as a team, and planned the Photo Walk with Grass Touching Co. in Quad 1. Since the venue for the exhibition from last year is no longer available, they have worked towards finding a new venue, having regular meetings to discuss this. While they have no concrete plans yet, they have roughly lined out their dates for the exhibition and have looked into some venue options and collaborations. They are hoping to secure a venue in early Quad 2, and to plan some more events.

Feminist Co.

Feminist Co. is a full collective with ten members. The transition was smooth, since the old chair has remained in her position. Immediately, the collective seemed to be very motivated and enthusiastic, and have brought back their Sexy Wine Talks event, which had an amazing turnout. The collective as a whole wants to steer more towards important societal feminist issues, and they have taken a step closer to that by going to the Rotterdam Pride March with Queer Co. They have been responsive with tasks from the EUCSA Board, including the Intersectional Roundtable and Script Approval for Performance Co., and have communicated very well. They have many events lined up for the next few quads, and hope to continue spreading awareness within the EUC community.

Networking & Acquisitions

The Networking & Acquisitions (N&A) Board has gained six members. Reflecting on last year, N&A's role as a committee was quite ambiguous, as collaborations and acquisitions for EUCSA often go through the EUCSA Board itself. As such, this quad, N&A was assigned the task of reviewing the collaborations that the EUCSA Board receives. This would involve them communicating directly with the interesting external partners, forwarding emails to relevant committees, and informing their CAO on these correspondences. This was a trial run that seemed to be successful. N&A hopes to continue with this in the next few quads and hopes to plan some events as well.

Performance Co.

Performance Co. is a full committee, many from the previous year's cast and crew, and two first-year general members. Over the summer, the committee members planned a timeline and met with the old committee members for advice. In Quad 1, they announced that they will be doing a production of Cabaret this year, having approved the script and booking the venue. Alongside this, they also planned a Footloose screening and Q&A to generate interest for auditions this year, which had good turnout and many people interested. They spent most of the end of Quad 1 doing casting auditions and callbacks, from which they have formed a full cast and crew. They have also organized the production review and decided on how they want to approach their own production of Cabaret. Overall, their communication is good and motivation is high, and they are looking forward to continuing their plans in Quad 2, eager to begin rehearsals and cast-crew bonding.

Sip and Savor Co.

Sip and Savor Co. has also formed a full committee, with two first-years. They started the quad off by changing their name (formerly Cultural Cooking Co.) and logo, to attract more relevant interest and to differentiate themselves more from the other cultural committees. Due to a delayed start with the name, they were only able to create an event in the end of the quad, that being the Hot Ones Challenge. This had great turnout despite the timing, and they were able to work well together as a team. They have started to create their presence on social media, and have been communicating efficiently. They are motivated to continue their success, with many potential events planned for future quads.

Sports Co.

Sports Co. is a fully formed committee, with captains and coaches for all sports, an events manager, a social media manager, a treasurer and a chair. They have continued to produce weekly training sessions, with coaches being motivated and active, preparing for the year ahead of time by figuring out venues and equipment. Unfortunately, due to issues with facilities at EUR, Volleyball and Basketball training sessions were at suboptimal times. Fortunately, this issue has been resolved for Quad 2. The training sessions themselves have been going well, and the committee is focused on achieving consistent turnout throughout the year, by organising some team dinners to hopefully incentivise attendance. They also hope to organise some matches in Quad 2. Alongside this, they have also produced three collaboration events. They hosted a Bend it like Beckham screening with Film and Photography Co., brought back the Charity Run with Charity Co., and hosted a Gokarting event in Dordrecht with Games & Entertainment Co.. All the events had great turnout, and their presence on social media has been consistent. They are planning to improve committee bonding and involvement, since Sports Co. roles often work in isolation. They have also been in communication with Merch Co. on new jerseys, but this is still in the early stages of planning. They are motivated for Quad 2, and already have many potential events in mind, and will be continuing with their consistent weekly training sessions.

Sustainability Co.

Sustainability Co. is fully formed, with six members who are all first-years. They managed to create a budget proposal and have planned one event. Plant Pot Painting was in the week before exams, and managed to gain good turnout. As a team, they have already proved to communicate well, gaining a good grasp on the logistics of creating an EUCSA event. They have good chemistry in their team, and all are motivated to plan and pitch ideas. They have plans for the upcoming quads, and hope to keep the momentum going.

Writing and Journalism Co.

Writing and Journalism Co. is a full committee of six members. Despite having a slow start, they are beginning to get their timeline for the journals and their events started. This quad, they hosted the first Writer's Lounge, announced their magazine theme ('Carousel') and opened magazine submissions. They have been good at communicating and have responded well to tasks, and are starting to gain their footing as a committee. The committee is motivated and hopes to complete the magazine in Quad 2 as well as organise events with other committees.

Progress of Eloïse's Committees

Film and Photography Co.

Film and Photography Co. is a fully formed committee with seven passionate members. For this start of the year they organized a movie screening in collaboration with Sports Co. and a photo walk in collaboration with Grass Touching Co. Despite lower energy levels due to the intensity of quad 1, they are brainstorming great ideas and are managing to communicate very well. For the next quad, they are hoping to plan Christmas/fall related screenings and potentially host a photography workshop. Overall, the committee members have all diverse and original ideas that will lead to even more creative and fun events.

Gala Team

Gala Team is a complete six member team. This quad they focused on making the initial budget and finalizing details with the venue for the end of the year Gala! They have great communication and very effective and regular meetings to make sure everyone is on the same page for the organization of the event. Altogether they ensure that all final decisions are taken collectively. They are all very well bonded and have a really good group dynamic. For the next quad, they are going to focus on selecting this year's theme and gala dress code. In the continuity of this, they plan to be more active on their social media to promote and start thinking about decorations ideas, music and photographs. Gala Team is very motivated and excited to move forward with the organization!

Games and Entertainment Co.

Games Co. is a full committee made of seven members. They held many events in this quad such as geoguessr and gokarting in collaboration with Sports Co. which were both very successful. The group dynamic is very positive with an active group chat and great communication. Regarding the next quad, they are planning to host a board game night, the famous beeriokart in collaboration with Bar Co. and they are brainstorming on a collaboration with Ski Team. Altogether, Games Co. is very active and contributes to bringing energy to our association.

Music Co.

Music Co. is a full committee made of eight talented first years. During this first quad, they planned their first open mic night. Many people participated and performed, making it a great success! All of Music Co. has great motivation and are enthusiastic about performing and planning events. They meet regularly and are all very involved. For the incoming quad, they plan to hold a jam session and a tiny desk concert. Overall, this committee has great energy and definitely brings music to EUCSA!

Party Co.

Party Co. is a fully formed committee with six energetic members. This quad they organized a beerpong tournament in collaboration with Bar Co. as well as a 'Last Days of Summer Party'. Both of these events contributed to making EUCSA's party life very active! They all have great motivations and are very eager to help when it comes to communication and learning responsibilities even in busy times. Next quad, they plan to organize another beerpong tournament and of course another party of which they have not decided the theme yet. Altogether, Party Co. is succeeding in efficient and fast planning which results in great events.

People of Color Co.

People of Color Co. is a full collective composed of ten very motivated first-years. They got to learn and understand the steps to create events and planned a cultural food study break event this quad where they hosted Kahoot games while offering food from different cultures in EUC. Despite their very large group, communication has been good so far. They are getting to know each other and everyone feels comfortable to share ideas. Due to technical challenges PoC Co. could not organize their block party in collaboration with Music Co  this quad which they hope to organize next quad. Regarding the next quad, they are also going to start planning diversity week. The success in planning their first event this quad has given them more ideas of activities to organize in the future. They also plan to bring more awareness to cultural celebrations in EUC by posting weekly on their social media. Overall PoC Co. members are highly motivated and have great teamwork which builds to the success of this committee.

Queer Co.

Queer Co. is a fully formed collective with ten active members, a committee record!  This quad they organized to meet and walk with the Rotterdam pride march and started planning their book club project. They have been communicating really and showed a lot of enthusiasm to make this collective very active this year. They are very motivated for the planning of their upcoming events in Quad 2 such as the book club, horror movie screening around Halloween and flag making session. Overall, Queer Co. is experiencing great success !

Travel Co.

Travel Co. is a full committee with six members. They started off the year very motivated with podcast making activity in the Lucia basement and a whole journey to Walibi theme park. Everyone is very enthusiastic about the committee, communication is easy and clear. Everyone contributes and takes responsibility for their tasks. They held a very successful bonding night resulting in a great group dynamic. Next quad, they plan to visit the christmas market in The Hague and start promoting for their trip to Paris ! Following this, they hope to have a pre-trip bonding night. On top of all this, they hope to collaborate with Film & Photo Co. for a movie night and organize postcard trading. This year Travel Co. is hitting records of events !

UCSRN Team

UCSRN Team is a full six member team. They are currently working on the UCSRN Tournament proposal, hoping to host it in quad 4 ! They had their first meeting and bonding event to get to know each other and create a group dynamic. Given the slow start of the UCSRN board, they have not had the opportunity to work on many things in this quad but they are excited about the upcoming plans of the next quad regarding the proposal and its presentation. UCSRN Team is getting ready to hopefully host an amazing tournament in Rotterdam!

Yearbook Co.

Yearbook Co. is a fully formed committee with eight active members. They are slowly brainstorming ideas for the end of the year Yearbook and succeeded in getting to know each other and communicating ideas. They have been very autonomous on their planning this quad and never hesitate to reach out when they need help. Next quad they are going to plan their yearbook photo days to give the opportunity to all EUC students to appear in the Yearbook ! The committee is very motivated to make a fun and memorable Yearbook.

Progress of Hania's Committees

Accessibility Co.

Accessibility Co. is an active committee consisting of a chair, a treasurer, and one general member. All members are first-years and are highly motivated to organise great events throughout the year. The committee has already kicked off the year with their first event, Accessibili-TEA, which was a success. Many people showed up to enjoy tea, board games, and snacks, and, most importantly, the atmosphere was warm and inclusive. The committee has ambitious plans for the rest of the year. They intend to bring back some of last year's popular events, such as the Blindfolded Dinner, as well as create new events of their own. Overall, the committee works well together and has already shown a lot of motivation.

Bar Co.

Bar Co. is a full committee of seven members, with students from each cohort. The committee is bonding really well, and everyone is motivated to organise great events.
During the first quad, they organised two events, both in collaboration with other committees: a beerpong tournament with Party Co. and a drunk debate with Debate Co. The beerpong tournament was a great success, with many students from every cohort showing up. The drunk debate was also very popular, with high attendance and positive feedback. The committee is not slowing down and already has ideas for the next quad, again including collaborations!

Charity Co.

Charity Co. started the year with just a chair and a treasurer, but after the September committee applications, it is now a full committee of six motivated members. The new members have settled in quickly, and the committee is enthusiastic about organising events throughout the year. During Quad 1, they organised a Charity Run in collaboration with Sports Co. The walk/run took place around the Kralingse Plas and raised money for 113 Suicide Prevention, a cause that brought many students together for a good purpose. The event was a great way to start off the year. For the upcoming quads, they plan to keep some of the popular events from previous years and to add some new ones.

Dance Co.

Dance Co. is an active committee of seven members, with students from each cohort. This year, they introduced something new: weekly dance trainings, with usually three to four trainings a week in different styles, ranging from ballet and contemporary to hip-hop and commercial, as well as a special line dancing training. The trainings are mostly led by members of the committee, who teach the choreographies themselves, but they have also invited other EUC students to lead them. To support ballet trainings, the committee has bought a ballet barre. In addition, Dance Co. hosted a UCSRN Interest Drinks at Bookal to promote the opening of applications for the UCSRN Dance Team. The application deadline is the 31st of October, and the committee will host the auditions during Quad 2. On top of this, they are already planning a really big event for Quad 4, which is still a secret for now. Overall, Dance Co. is very active and is bringing a lot of energy to the association through their trainings!

Grass Touching Co.

Grass Touching Co. is a full committee of six members. During Quad 1, they organised a photo walk and an outdoor cinema night in collaboration with Film and Photo Co. Although they started the online promotion fairly late, the event was a success: people enjoyed the walk, and additional students joined for the movie screening afterwards. There were some technical difficulties during the screening, but everyone still had a great time in the end. Grass Touching Co. has made a good start to the year and is motivated to keep organising events in Quad 2.

MEDA

MEDA has managed to find a representative for each department across the cohorts, including a first-year general member. This means the committee is well balanced and able to reach students from every department. During Quad 1, they focused mainly on getting to know each other and building a strong team. For Quad 2, they are planning a big workshop in collaboration with SAAC. Overall, MEDA has made a good start to the year and is excited to work on the workshop in the coming quad.

Merch Co.

Merch Co. is a full committee of eight members, with students from each cohort. The committee plans to release a drop every quad, each with different items. During Quad 1, they launched a navy blue crewneck. The committee is working on getting the crewnecks ready, with the aim of distributing them to the students who purchased them at the beginning of Quad 2. The committee found it challenging to stay motivated and to promote the crewnecks as actively as they would have liked. They are aware of this and are committed to putting more energy into promotion and planning for the next drop.

Podcast Co.

Podcast Co. is a committee of four first-years who are highly motivated to create good content for euc students. From short-form content on Instagram to longer podcast (Pre's at ours) episodes on Spotify. During Quad 1, they conducted interviews at the first Party Co. party of the year and launched an episode called "Where We Come Together and Start University". The committee is well bonded, and there is a really good atmosphere within the team. Overall, Podcast Co. has made a promising start and is motivated to keep creating content in Quad 2.

Ski Team

Ski Team is a committee of eight members, each responsible for different tasks throughout the year. The committee is planning and organising the Ski Trip, and they already started working on it during the summer. During Quad 1, they hosted Ski Team Social Drinks, which had high attendance. They also had the highest number of applicants for the general member positions, and they got many people excited not only about joining the Ski Team but also about going on the Ski Trip. Close to the end of the quad, they organised a Ski Trip Info Session about the location, price, and other details of the trip. The tickets will be released in the second week of Quad 2, which is when promotion will be especially important. The committee takes bonding very seriously, and they paid a lot of attention to it this quad. They also have a few ideas for collaborations with other committees, and they are really excited about the Ski Trip!

TEDx Team

TEDx is a big committee of eleven members across all cohorts, divided into four teams: the Speakers Team, the Social Media & Design Team, the Sponsors Team, and the Logistics Team. The committee is currently planning the TEDx event, which will take place in Quad 4. The theme of the event is "The Silver Lining of Uncertainty." They have opened the speaker applications, and during Quad 2 they will host interviews with the applicants and work on promotion, potential sponsors, and the logistics of the event. They are also starting Quad 2 with a team bonding event, which they hope will bring the team even closer together and boost their motivation.

Did anyone make it this far? Great job if you did! The first person to come into the board room and yell "Tiger, Tiger, Tiger!" gets a special prize… We'll be waiting!

Intersectional Roundtable

Following the approval of the GA, the Intersectional Roundtable (IR) has been introduced. Maintaining a similar structure to the IC, the IR includes mandatory representatives of Accessibility, Fem, PoC, Queer and Sustainability committees, in addition to a representative of SAAC. A brainstorming session was held in Quad 1, and starting in Quad 2, the IR will be held once per Quad and will be open to all EUC students. We are excited to see how this new system will work going forward.

Advisory Council

The AC is intended to advise us as a board in daily and long term decisions. The AC is fully formed and our first meeting has already taken place. We are looking forward to working with them throughout our board year.
